— FROM THE FOUNDER

Why should learning feel like a burden to a child?

“Too many children are taught to memorise and fear exams, rather than to think, question and grow. I wanted something better for the children of Mardan.”

“This school is not a business. It is a mission close to my heart. My hope is simple: that every child who walks through these doors leaves happier, more confident and truly ready, not just for the next exam, but for life.”
